3 fuel-dependent communities, and other vulnerable

5 dren, and the elderly, are disproportionately bur-

7 sure to polluted air, waterways, and landscapes.

8 (2) Environmental justice disparities are also 9 exhibited through a lack of equitable access to infor-
10 mation and data on potential exposure to environ-
11 mental hazards.

12 (3) Communities experiencing environmental in-13 justice have been subjected to systemic racial, social,
14 and economic injustices and face a disproportionate 15 burden of adverse human health or environmental 16 effects, a higher risk of intentional, unconscious, and 17 structural discrimination, and disproportionate en-
18 ergy burdens.

19 (4) These disproportionate burdens are being 20 exacerbated by the COVID–19 pandemic.
